common symptoms and signs include: breathing difficulties; oedematous ankles, legs, feet or abdomen; fatigue and exercise intolerance.

and next year could also be the year the first state, and even perhaps a second, legalizes it through the legislative process.