people using zolpidem should not stop taking the drug suddenly, but gradually reduce the dose over a few days before quitting, even if zolpidem has been used only a for short time.

in particular considering that you could have done it in case you considered necessary “this is a public